

Ethics panel to look into scandal surrounding Lopez

Posted on Sep 05, Posted by Administrator Category City

The Joint Commission on Public Ethics voted yesterday to open a formal investigation into the sexual harassment scandal surrounding Assemblyman Vito Lopez, according to The Post. But there could be a delay

in that probe if prosecutors ask the board to wait until they are finished with their own investigation. Meanwhile, Lopez derided Assembly Speaker Silver's call for him to resign '

self serving

.'

In the Press...

Lunch trays got too lean in city's fight against fat (NY Times)

Map: City Council prepares for redistricting (WNYC)

Activists call for more Latino and Asian-American council districts (Daily News)

If this Brooklyn kingmaker is asking, saying no is a risky option (NY Times)

Powerful but poorly understood, Brooklyn county party chair is seat to have (WNYC)

Race for 80th Assembly District in Bronx heats up with scandal and mudslinging (Daily News)

Searching for answers after violence mars parade (NY Times)

Tags: Tagged in: JCOPE Vito Lopez