

Today's Lead: A Bloody Weekend

Posted on Jun 04, Posted by Mike Muller Category The Eye-Opener

This weekend saw 26 shootings , where seven victims died. That's 5 percent of the city's total shootings for the year so far. Most of the incidences were in Brooklyn

. In response

, Commissioner Kelly said he'd boost foot patrols in the projects, increase plain clothes detectives in anti-crime units, and add surveillance towers. Still, the number of shootings so far this year is the lowest in a decade

and 29 percent less than last year.

Other Stories We're Following

Is New York City Ready For Another Sandy? (New York Magazine)

Mayor Announces New Effort On Sandy Repairs (Associated Press)

Vallone Blocking NYPD Bills From Vote (Wall Street Journal)

Restaurants Shuttered By Health Inspectors Drops 16 Percent (Daily News)

State Lobbying Money, Mostly For Advertising, Down This Year (Albany Times Union)

Experiences As Students And Parents Shape Candidates' Views On Schools (NY Times)

Commissioner Kelly Says He's Not Running For Mayor (Associated Press)

Weiner Avoids Position On Bloomberg's Tobacco Proposal (Wall Street Journal)

Vito Lopez Ally To Launch Bid For His Seat (Politicker)

Thompson Backed By Black Political Establishment (WNYC)

Conservative Party Endorses Lhota For Mayor (NY Times)

Tags: Tagged in: crime NYPD